THE LABOR COMMITTEE.

WHAT THE COMMITTEE HAS TO DO.

The Committee Favorably Impressed with the Industrial Results of the Latter Day Saints.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—Mr. Martin, of North Carolina, one of the members of the House labor committee, arrived here this morning, on his way home. Of the other members of the committee, the chairman, Mr. Wright, of Pennsylvania, reached Harrisburg last night; O'Connor, of South Carolina reached New York this morning; Dickey, of Ohio, left the party at Chicago on Wednesday, and Cowgill, of Indiana, extended his trip to Oregon. The committee has been absent since the 23d of July. It took some ten days testimony in Chicago, four days in San Francisco and examined a few witnesses at Des Moines. The depression of labor and business, into the causes and remedies of which the committee was to inquire, was not very perceptible anywhere on the route, and the further West that the committee traveled the more difficult it became to discover any traces of such depression. At Chicago there were communists, socialists, labor reformers, greenback theorists, and unfortunate real estate speculators, who had their various opinions on the way to improve society and to bring about the millenium of the working classes. At San Francisco the principal topic of inquiry was Chinese immigration. Farmers tradesmen, mechanics, pedlers, miners and workmen all agreed that they could not hold their own against the Chinaman, and without intending anything of the sort they bore the strongest testimony in favor of the skill, industry, patience and frugality of the Chinese. The committee paid a short visit to Salt Lake City, and seemed to be favorably impressed with the industrial results achieved by the Latter Day Saints.

Afghanistan News.

SIMLA, Sept. 5.—On the night of the 4th inst. a messenger reached Ali Kheyl with news that the British Embassy at Cabul had been attacked by several Afghan regiments, and that the escort of the Embassy were defending themselves. The troops at Ali Kheyl were ordered to move instantly on Shutargardan pass and instructions dispatched to Generals Roberts and Stewart to advance on Cabul. Letters from the Ameer confirm the report of the revolt. He was completely surprised. The populace joined the mutinous regiments and the Embassy was attacked by overwhelming numbers, and at the latest accounts the Viceroy of India was ignorant of the fate of the members of the Embassy. The Ameer's arsenal and stores were first plundered and destroyed, and the British Embassy then attacked by overwhelming numbers.

The Ameer declares that he was completely surprised by the outbreak. He endeavored to quell it and sent General Doodshah to Major Cavagnari for assistance, but General Doodshah was unhorsed and fatally wounded. The Ameer then sent his son with the governor of Cabul and other influential personages, but the mob was wholly uncontrollable. The attack on the British Embassy continued throughout Weddesday when fire broke on the premises. The Ameer, writing on Thursdays, says he is in great distress, and is himself besieged. The Viceroy of India is at present ignorant of the fate of Gen Cavagnari and other members of the Embassy. Gen Roberts has already started for the Peiwar pass. The advance on Cabul will be made very speedily and will be strongly supported. The Viceroy's military secretary accompanies General Roberts.

The California Election.

SAN FRANCISCO, 10 a. m., Sept. 6.-The latest returns from the city indicate that the workingmen are gaining. It is possible that they may elect their supervisors and school directors. The count will probably be completed this afternoon, until which time nothing definite can be stated regarding the city, Returns from the interior confirm previous advices.

Four Persons Arrested for Murder After Fourteen Years.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 6.—Four farmers were arrested at Carthage, Missouri, Friday for the murder of John Bass Jones, a noted Confederate leader, fourteen years ago, just after the close of the war. The warrants are sworn to by a woman named Lize Ody. It is said the arrests have been given a political significance, and cause much excitement.

Another Fall River Embezzler.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Sept. 5.—The grand jury yesterday spent two hours considering George B. Durfee's case. No official announcement of the decision has yet been made, but it is stated on good authority that Durfee was indicted for embezzlement of the Mechanic's mill funds.

All in the Family.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—The President has appointed General William H. Hayes, of Springfield, Kentucky, United States District Judge for Kentucky, to succeed the late Judge Ballard.

From Memphis.

MEMPHIS, Sept. 6.—Five new cases reported this morning and five deaths since last night; among the number Daniel A. Fawlks. W. J. Berlin is in a critical condition. Weather clear and warm.

Mrs. Sprague's Petition.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 6.—The petition of Mrs. Kate Chase Sprague for the appointment of a trustee for her property, came up in the Supreme Court to-day, and next Wednesday was assigned for a hearing.

Hopeful.

MINNEAPOLIS, September 5th.—The exhibition race yesterday between Hopeful and pacing mare Lucy, for a special purse of $2,000, was won by Hopeful. Time, 2;18½, 2:30 and 2:23.

The Cotton Trade.

LONDON, Sept. 6.—The trade in cotton goods continue in a stagnant condition. The Manchester Guardian reviewing the situation says:

"The loss occasioned by the recent rise in cotton has fallen about equally on spinners and weavers. The inducement to stop producing is at present about the same in both cases. The execution of contracts on hand will doubtless delay the closing of the mills for a little time, but the margin of profit is so wretchedly poor that there is no reason for entering into fresh arrangements until there is reasonable prospect of a drop in cotton, or an advance in goods. At present neither of these contingencies is expected, but later in the year some movements in both directions may be reasonably hoped for. The Oldham limited companies have issued a circulor calling meetings for the 13th instant, to discuss the present ruinous state of trade which entails a loss of ⅛d per pound, and to adopt some measure whereby the companies may be relieved."

The correspondent of the Economist says it is felt in Oldham that something must be done to bring the pressure on the Liverpool cotton market. One of the largest companies in Oldham intends to close for alternate weeks. It is felt that if this were done for some time to come, or even if there were a total stoppage of the Oldham mills for a month a great improvement would be effected, as Liverpool would lose so much ground.

The Board of Trade.

NEW YORK, September 6.—The regular quarterly meeting of the United States Board of Trade will be held at the St. Nicholas Hotel Wednesday and Thursday next. The meeting will be called to order by Hon. Nathan Appleton, of Boston, president of the board, who will deliver the opening address. On Wednesday evening Mr. Appleton will present the subject of the inter-oceanic canal across Panama as as recommended by the recent Congress in Paris.

A Falling House.

CHEYENNE, Sept. 6.—A two story brick building occupied by F. E. Warren, music store, L. S. Brehen, meat market, and Mrs. Bells, boarding house in Sixteenth street, fell last night burying a number of persons in the ruins. It is believed that all except two children of Mrs. Bell have been taken out. Colonel B. J. F. Vandesande was taken out dead and others received more or less injuries. The building adjoins the office of the Western Union walls which are considered unsafe.

The Fire Record.

CHICAGO, Sept. 6.—Fire occurred last night in a variety theater at Cheyenne, and as the building adjoins the Western Union office, the latter was rendered dangerous and untenable by the falling walls of the theater. Communication with San Francisco is therein interrupted, and until new arrangements can be made, the California election news will be delayed.

LATE NEWS NOTES.

Mrs. Sprague has filed a petition for a trustee of her property.

The Empress Eugenie is still greatly depressed with grief. She refuses to leave Chiselhurst.

Portions of the skeleton of a mastodon have been discovered by men digging a well in Wellsboro, Penn.

Clark Brown has confessed to the murder of his father and sister at west Winchester, Ontario. He implicates no one else and says he was impelled by some strange feeling to commit the awful crime.

The Edison Company has obtained from the French government permission to establish telephone communication between the various quarters of Paris. On payment of a monthly subscription, a telephone will be installed in one's house just as gas or water.

In addition to the subscription of $250 from Inman, Swann & Co., of New York, to the fund for the children of the late General Hood, the members of the New York Cotton Exchange yesterday subscribed $1,000. Contributions are coming in freely at Richmond, Va., and the guests at Greenbrier White Sulphur Springs yesterday raised $200. The Louisiana division of the Association of the Army of Northern Virginia and Army of Tennessee have appointed a committee to receive contributions.

RELIEF FOR BEAUFORT.

Acknowledgment of Receipts for the Sufferers.

BEAUFORT, September 5.—EDITOR NEWS: Since my statement of September 1st, I have received the following amounts. Miss Emma Mordecai, Raleigh, $10; from Miss Ellen Mordecai, Raleigh, $10; Mayor Manly, New Berne (additional) $3.75; Mrs. Rufus M. Johnston, Charlotte (through A. G. Brenizer) $10; an envelope from Granville Georgia, no name, no letter, containing one dollar.

Last night I received a letter from Co. T. M. Holt, of Haw River, Alamance county, from which I make the following extract:

"I have this day shipped you eight sacks flour, for the destitute of your city and county, which you will please distribute as your judgment may dictate. I infer from your letter of the 1st instant to the Raleigh NEWS that flour will be more acceptable than money. Hope the good people of the United States, and North Carolina especially, will respond liberally to your appeals."

Such a man is Colonel Thomas M. Holt! Any county or State ought to be proud of all such. With regard to aid from outside the State, I have only this to say. If a person were drowning he would hardly take time to ask where the man came from who offered to save him.

For the benefit of all concerned, I would here state that I have but little time to devote to private correspondence. When matters are wound up I propose to give the public a statement of every cent which has come into my hands, and the source from whence it came. All disbursements are properly entered, and it will be an easy matter to have my accounts audited.

Very respectfully
L. W. MARTIN.

A Card.

RALEIGH, Sept. 4.—"If ever I cease to love" I hope it will be when the young lawyer that pulled down our signs last night will go to bed at 10, and sleep all night, "Give us a rest," "Jesse Holms relieve us. R.

We caught a gentleman of the above type last night pulling down our signs in front of our store. We know who he is. Please insert the above. We are responsible.

A Good Sign.

New Berne Democrat, 5th.

On the wharf yesterday we noticed several cotton gins, which had just arrived, and were intended for our famrers. More gins and engines have been purchased this year by our famrers than have ever been in any one year heretofore. This is another good sign of the prosperity of our agricultural classes. We venture to say that in Craven and the counties adjoining it there are now four engines driven by steam where six years ago there was only one; this is an evidence that there is more cotton raised, or that the individual farmer is in better circumstances and is nearer self-supporting, and hence is nearer independence.

Millet Raising.

Greenville Express.

We learn that Mr. James Joyner, of Marlboro, the most progressive and scientific farmer of Pitt county, cut two acres of German millet last week, which weighed, when cured, 7,800 pounds, or not quite four tons to the acre. Considing the dry spell this was a heavy crop.

POLITICAL POLEMICS.

ROW AMONG THE NEW YORK POLICE COMMISSIONERS.

The Tilden-Cooper Wing to Get Control--The Result Anxiously Looked for--Judge Ord on Politics.

NEW YORK, September 6.—There was a big row in the police board to-day. Commissioner Wheeler read a letter sharply criticising the mayor for alleging deficiency in his accounts, and stating that the money had been deposited to the credit of the city. The mayor's men, McLean and Morrison, appointed to represent the Tilden-Cooper wing of the Democratic party, objected to its going on the minutes, and after a hot war of words, the matter was carried over. The politicians here place great stress on the matter as indicating who shall control the police, and so far as that effects the matter, the counting of votes and control of polling places.

Judge Ord, of San Francisdo, now stopping in this city, says the California election is likely to be satisfactory to the conservatives of all parties, and may lead to the practical disabandonment of the Workingmen's party whose success was essential to its continued existence. The Republicans, he said, seemed to have elected the greater part of the State officers, while the judiciary will be Democratic. There will therefore be two checks thrown upon the legislature should it attempt to pass laws which are necessary to carry out the extreme measures proposed by the new constitution and the adherents of the parties who supported it. The governor will have the veto power, and a conservative Supreme court have the interpretation of the new laws. It will be found that there are two possible ways of interpreting almost everything under the new constitution and between the governor and the courts, the new party will find its progress stopped.

The Lottery Ass.

Puck.

It is unpleasant for a man who has a regard for his own compatriots to be obliged to write down any considerable portion of them as asses; but that does seem to be forced upon the observers of the daily newspapers, he who notices the very great prosperity of the lotteries which are periodically "drawn" in certain Southern and Western States.

The extremely gorgeous offices and the more than gorgeously attired clerks, cashiers and flunkies generally; together with the very expensive columns of advertising in all the great journals, are proof that the genus ass among us is greater than one would believe from studying the physiognomies of the passers-by in any of our thoroughfares.

Some years ago one of our esteemed contemporaries used to publish, under the caption of "The Fool Fishers," certain experiences of parties who purchased boxes of saw dust cheap, fancying they were purchasing counterfeit money. But even then, our contemporary could only fish up about two fools a month, whereas the lotteries catch them in shoals. Mackerel fishing is nothing to the way they do it. A half-column of canoodling figures, the names of several half-dead-and-alive Generals, the promise to "draw" on a certain date whether or no, and the donkeys rush in with their dollars.

But who draw the prizes? Any dear donkey will tell you. It is advertised in the great dailies, along-side of all the nasty patent medicines. Ministers without churches and unknown to any classes or diocese; printers of some unknown country journal; and "Mrs. Mack, a poor widow, of 5,552 Chambers street, Boston" (which number existed not), gave their certificates that they drew $30,000, $15,000, $10,000, as the case may be. But did you, reader, draw or personally know anybody who ever did draw a big prize? If so, you are one among a million; and if so (again), please investigate, and ascertain if the fortunate prize winner is not a sister or a cousin or an aunt of the people who run the lottery.

As a financial operation, the whole system shows its fraudulency; there is not margin enough above the prices promised, if fairly paid, to meet the tremendous expenses of rent, salaries, advertising and agencies. Any schoolboy who can do his sums in arithmetic could tell his daddy so; and the home would be happier and better provided for, if he could persuade the "old man" of the fact.

But still the donkeys rush on to dump their dollars into the lottery maw; the home and the honest industries of the country suffer; rich thieves become richer, and poor workers poorer; and when once in awhile a man who has been investing his monthly dollar for ten years, happens to draw a ten dollar prize, he rejoices—all his friends rejoice—the honesty of the lottery man is proved!

And many more donkeys invest many more dollars.

Go from Home to Hear the News.

Wilson Advance, 5th.

Some of our enterprising exchanges have been very busy for several days past, describing the harrowing details of "the terrible explosion of Mr. Ellis Levy's steam mill," which they allege occurred near this place last Saturday week.

There is no such man near Wilson as Ellis Levy, and there has not been a steam mill explosion in this county for several years. About six weeks ago the Advance contained full particulars of the explosion of Mr. Ellis Levy's steam mill near Enfield, and we suppose, that the publication of these facts in a Wilson paper, coupled with the scarcity of sensational news, and the indisposition of some newspaper men to give credit and take news second hand, has caused the mistake which at this late day appears rather ridiculous to one acquainted with the circumstances.

Senator Conkling Stronger Than Ever.

New York Sun, 5th.

After the spectacle which has just been exhibited of a great State Convention, without its will or against its will, moulded, like day, to suit his own purposes by the strong will and dexter hand of Roscoe Conkling, it is useless to deny his extraordinary power. He has wielded these hundreds of strong, select, representative men as if he were wielding the will of a single loved and loving woman. Men may hate Roscoe Conkling; let no man henceforth affect to despise him.

How to Preserve Watermelons.

Wilmington Star.

For a steady diet watermelons can hardly be recommended for their health-giving and strength-sustaining qualities, although they may add considerably, at the time, to the avoirdupois of the individual who manages to get away with one or two good-sized ones at a sitting. In fact, we have known an employer "on the wharf" to refuse to hire an apparently rotund and able-bodied "man and brother" simply because his ostensible diet during the summer months was watermelons and crackers, arguing that it would take three long hours to get fifteen cents' worth of barrel-rolling out of him. But be this as it may, there be those in these parts who dote on watermelons, and who mark their disappearance as the season wanes with sorrow and regret. To such persons, and for their especial benefit, we offer the following information, which will enable them to revel in the sweets of their favorite fruit all the year around, if they have the means to enable them to gratify their aquatic tastes in this direction. It was sent to us by a lady friend, who says she sends it as she received it, verbatim et literatim, vouching for it, however, as being successfully tried in past seasons, viz:

"If you want to know how to keep watermelons all winter I can just tell you, and this is how I does it. I takes them and gives them a coat of varnish every day for four days, and then puts them away. They will keep all winter, and be just as fresh as when pulled from the vine.

THE LATE GENERAL HOOD.

Particulars of the Death of General Hood and his Wife.

General Randall Gibson, member of Congress from Louisiana, who is now at the Greenbrier White Sulphur Springs, has received a letter, setting forth in an affecting manner the last sad scenes in the life of General John B. Hood. The following is an extract from the letter:

"Mrs. Hood, after her last sickness, was better Friday week, feeling so well she imprudently took a bath. Immediately after she was taken with a chill. Dr. Richardson having left on the first of this month, Dr. Bemiss was called in, and during his temporary absence, and when taken with this chill, Dr. Beckham was called, and in consultation with Dr. Logan treated her for intermittent fever. On the following Friday Dr. Bemiss returned. I heard him say Mrs. Hood's case was the most remarkable one he had ever seen in his practice; that there was not a single symptom of yellow fever, and they did not know that she had it until the black vomit appeared. She died at 9½ o'clock p. m. Sunday night and was buried at 10 o'clock Monday morning. I never saw a man so completely crushed in my life. I was with him Monday morning till the funeral. He said he'd rather God should have taken every one of his children in one day than to have lost his wife; that he was completely ruined, and now, without his wife, he had nothing to live for. The precious little lambs who had gone to bed Sunday night, knowing nothing of their mother's death, began to come in one by one until nine came in, and such a scene I never wish to witness again. After the children left he said: 'Major, I have never had the fever, but if I should have it, and it is God's will, I am ready to go. I have requested Colonel Flowers to take charge of my children and appeal to the Confederate soldiers to support them, for I have nothing on earth to leave them. He was taken Tuesday morning at 3 o'clock, and died Friday morning at 3½ o'clock, perfectly in his mind to within ten minutes of his death. At about 2 o'clock he asked the doctor if his time to die was not near at hand. The doctor said, 'Yes, General.' Then a minister was sent for, at his request, to give him the last communion. I hear his house is mortgaged to its full value, and he left but little insurance on his life, not being able to keep up his policies. He told me his book was finished, and he was just about starting to Philadelphia to make arrangements for its publication. Old Mrs. Hennen, his mother-in-law, can live but a few months, and here are eleven little lambs left fatherless and motherless."

General Gibson laid this letter before certain of the guests at White Sulphur, whereupon an appeal in behalf of the orphaned children of General Hood was issued by a number, representing nearly every Southern State, and the work begun by the collection of several hundred dollars. The address, after reciting the heroic deeds and sacrifices of the late General Hood, concludes:

"Let the women of the South adopt these orphans, and at once raise a sum sufficient for their maintenance and education. We suggest that an association for this purpose be formed in every county and town, and that subscriptions be raised, not to exceed $1 from every child in a family. The children themselves will subscribe, or their parents for them. We appeal also to the ministers of God and Christian churches to make collections. The funds may be remitted immediately to Colonel Isaac W. Patton, mayor of New Orleans, or to Major Walter P. Crouch, or to Major Samuel Flowers, of New Orleans, associates of General Hood in business, who will act until a guardian shall be lawfully appointed."

STATE NEWS.

[Correspondence under this head is furnished by regular contributors to the News.]

GUILFORD.

GREENSBORO, Sept. 5.—The weather is hot and dry. Trade good.

The wife of Rev. A. D. Betts, of the North Carolina Conference, departed this life about 4 p. m. to-day. A good woman, leaving quite a large family and husband. Also the death of Judge John Kerr at Reidsville this a. m. at 8 o'clock, one of the bar of North Carolina and long and well known as a judge on the bench of North Carolina justices.

Judge McCoy is putting criminals through this week. One boy for stealing a shirt—three years in the penitentiary; one boy for same offense—two years on the Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley railroad; Wakefield and Jennings, horse thieves; one for twenty and the other twenty-five years in the penitentiary.

About 8 a. m. yesterday the prisoners in the stockade prised off a plank and five of them made good their escape, and up to last night not one of them had been recaptured.

Dillard & Dick's law school is growing in popularity, there being some sixteen students reading under them.

The market is well supplied with everything. Butter in abundance at about 12½ to 15 cents and eggs 10 to 11 cents, etc.

ASHE.

JEFFERSON, Sept. 2.—On the 5th of August the Chairman of the County Commissions of Ashe county called a meeting of the physicians present, with the mayor of Jefferson, and organized a Medical Board by electing Dr. L. C. Gentrey superintendent, and Dr. J. O. Wilcox secretary and treasurer, when the meeting adjourned to meet September 18th.

JAMES WAGG, Sec. pro tem.

This is what Robert G. Ingersoll says of the women: "I tell you women are more prudent than men. I tell you, as a rule, women are more faithful than men. I never saw a man pursue his wife into the very ditch and dust of degradation and take her in his arms. I never saw a man stand at the shore where she has been morally wrecked, waiting for the waves to bring back even her corpse to his arms; but I have seen woman with her white arms lift man from the myre of degradation and hold him to her bosom as though he were an angel."

THE TRADE OF RALEIGH.

OPINIONS OF THE LEADING GROCERS IN THE CITY.

Prospects for the Fall Trade---Reasons why the Raleigh Grocers can Wholesale Goods.

THE NEWS to-day publishes the third number of the series of articles on the state of the Raleigh trade. The articles will be continued until the statements of all our merchants have been published. It is impossible to publish them all at once, as it would crowd all other matter out of the paper. Raleigh offers great advantages to North Carolina village and country merchants, and should enjoy a larger trade than it now has, and the NEWS intends to do its part in bringing the facts before the country public. Read what the business men say:

JORDAN WOMBLE, WHOLESALE AND RETAIL GROCER, COMMISSION MERCHANT AND DEALER IN LEATHER, HARGETT STREET.

This house deals extensively in the leather trade. Spring trade about as usual. Some months a little dull. Fall trade opening. Prospects for fall trade better than for a number of years. Good crops generally. Can sell goods in his line as cheap as Baltimore or Norfolk houses can deliver them to North Carolina customers, etc. A reliable business man, Mr. Womble, and one of our oldest merchants. He looks to the interest of his customers.

LYNN ADAMS, WHOLESALE AND RETAIL GROCER AND COMMISSION MERCHANT, EXCHANGE PLACE.

Mr. Adams was of the opinion that the spring trade this year had been unusually good; that the summer months would compare favorably with the same season for the past few years and that trade this fall would be better than for a number of years. He can sell goods as cheap as any Norfolk or Baltimore firm can deliver them to North Carolina customers. Mr. Adams is one of our oldest and most experienced merchants; sells first class goods and always consults his customers interests.

L. D. & W. R. WOMBLE, GROCERS AND DEALERS IN SHOE FINDINGS, WILMINGTON STREET.

Spring trade about as good as usual; the summer months held their own.

No perceptible signs of the fall trade having yet opened; good prospects for a fall trade etc. Can sell goods, especially in the leather line, as cheap as they can be bought anywhere. Buy in large quantities and get a discount that permits them to sell shoe findings as cheap as northern houses, to country dealers.

Norfolk and Baltimore drummers say they have to sell at closer figures to Raleigh merchants than any other city in the South—goods marked so low down here, etc.

These gentlemen are capital business men and have been engaged in the mercantile pursuit here for a great number of years. They do a good business especially in the leather line, and sell as low as the lowest. They will treat you right.

REDFORD & ARENDELL, WHOLESALE AND RETAIL GROCERS AND COMMISSION MERCHANTS, HARGETT ST.

This is a new firm, though both of these gentlemen are experienced business men. They have just returned from the Northern markets, and have supplied themselves with a large stock of goods. They say the feeling among the business men North is better, and that they are more sanguine of a big trade this fall than for years. The spring trade this year they thought had been better than usual; summer months good, and the fall trade just opening. They anticipate a splendid run of custom this season. They will sell and deliver goods to North Carolina customers as cheap as any house south of New York. Goods are being sold cheaper now than ever before, which enables the farmer to meet his engagements more promptly, and he can afford to buy more goods, etc. They are reliable gentlemen; control a good trade and have the confidence of their customers. Since opening their new house their success has far exceeded their most sanguine expectations.

KELLY, PUREFOY & BREWER, GENERAL COMMISSION MERCHANTS, ADAMS' BUILDING, MARTIN STREET.

Trade this fall will open late, as the cotton crop is about two weeks later than last season. From all indications we think it will be unusually good when the season fully opens. There has been an increasing tendency with the merchants and farmers along the line of the R. & G. R. R. to consign their cotton to the Raleigh market, as experience has taught them that this is their natural and best market. Light charges, good prices, and quick returns always proving satisfactory. Bagging and ties also can be furnished this section from Raleigh on as good terms as from any market. We expect a large increase in our trade this season. These gentlemen are all thorough business men and enjoy the confidence and patronage of a large circle of customers.

J. A. CHEATHAM, GENERAL STOCK, CORNER MARTIN AND WILMINGTON STS.

Spring and summer trade about the same as last year. Business is beginning to show signs of improvement; the fall trade prospects are good; farmers generally in good condition this year and crops better than usual. Can sell goods to North Carolina customers as cheap as they can be delivered here from Norfolk, Richmond or Baltimore houses. This house seemed to be enjoying a good run of custom.

JULIUS LEWIS & CO., WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DEALERS IN HARDWARE AND BUILDING MATERIAL, FISHER BUILDING, FAYETTEVILLE STREET.

The reporter found Mr. Nick West hard at work as usual. The outlook for fall trade, he said, was splendid. Their wholesale trade, a large part of their business, was increasing steadily year by year. They now sell country merchants, who have always before purchased their hardware in New York or Baltimore. They frequently sell country merchants who purchase all their stock north except hardware. This firm buys largely for cash and their trade is a large one, occupying as they do the entire Fisher building, they have one of the finest establishments in the South. They are also largely engaged in the manufacture of wagons, carts, etc., at their works on east Hargett street. They are clever and reliable gentlemen and thorough business men. Their establishment is an ornament to the city.

ALFRED WILLIAMS & CO., WHOLESALE & RETAIL BOOKSELLERS AND STATIONERS.

This house wears a business look and the junior member of the firm informed the reporter that trade was better last spring than the spring of '78; that the summer months seemed to have held their own compared with the same months of the previous year, and that trade had already begun to revive. judging from the way the fall trade is opening, they anticipate a large increase in their receipts over any session for a great number of years. To prove the sincerity of these expectations, they will carry a larger stock than ever before. They report the wholesale trade to be largely on the increase, and assured the NEWS that they sell goods in their line as cheap as they are sold in Richmond, Norfolk, Baltimore and elsewhere; have compared prices and know whereof they speak. They publish an annual catalogue of books, which may be obtained free on application. Books, for introduction, can be purchased through this firm at publishers' prices. This is one of the largest stationery houses in the South.

How a Connecticut Brother Destroyed His Usefulness.

A decon of a prominent Connecticut church whose pastor had just resigned, says the Hartfort Curant, recently met a Hartford divine, when the following conversation ensued:

"I was sorry to hear that brother Blank had resigned, I have always liked him. He is regarded as a very able man, isn't he?"

"W-e-e-l, y-e-s," (hesitating.) "Oh, y-e-s, he's an able man."

"But he is a first-rate preacher, isn't he?"

"W-e-l-l, y-e-s, he's a very good preacher."

"And he is a man of the highest Christian character; so we have always thought here."

"W-e-l-l, yes, Oh, yes, he's a good Christian."

"But there must be something the matter, Deacon. Why do you hesitate so, and say, 'we-ll, ye-s?' Has brother Blank been guilty of anything wrong? I know of a church that I think he is just the man for, and I mean to recommend him very highly. Have you any reason to suppose that he would not give satisfaction?"

"Well, Doctor, Mr. Blank is all you say about him, but I am afraid he is not calculated to make a successful pastor in the country."

"Why not, Deacon? You surprise me very much."

"Well, I will tell you one reason. Mr. Blank lived next to a neighbor whose hens and chickens troubled him very much by digging up his garden. He spoke about it several times, but it did no good; these fowls kept in his garden all the time. And what do you think he did? Instead of shooting some of them or building a high fence around his garden, he came here to Hartford and bought the best game cock he could find, took him home and turned him loose in the garden. The next day that neighbor heard a great commotion among the poultry, and when he looked over the fence there were all his hens and chickens lying in windows, and that game cock walking over the bodies and crowing. Now, you can't say that was unchristian conduct, but it was certainly calculated to destroy Mr. Blank's usefulness in that section.

Slightly Mixed.

A great story teller was giving an account of an exploit in deer-killing: "I was mowing one morning in a meadow when I saw a deer coming through the grass in front of me; I dropped my scythe and ran after him; in three or four jumps I reached his head, and striking him with my whetstone, which I had retained in my hand, I stunned him, and then drawing out my knife I cut his throat."

"What! you overtake a deer!" said his listener.

Seeing that he had drawn his long bow a little too strong, he replied: "Well, you see there had been a heavy fall of snow and it was crusted over on the top. I could run on the crust, but the sharp hoof of the deer cut through—that is the way I caught him."

"But how came you to be out mowing that morning?" queried his listener.

"I do believe," he answered, "that I have got part of two stories together?"

TO THE NORTH.

A Southern Ode Commemorative of the Great Pestilence of 1878.

Baltimorean.

To the people of the North,
When our day of sorrow came,
When the pestilence swept forth
All devouring as the flame—
And death rushed fiercely on like a blaze—
Let the Southern maidens sing,
And our matrons garlands bring,
While all our voices ring
To their praise!

Bowed down by war's defeat,
With our bruised arms hung up;
Hushed were the dancers' feet,
Unfilled the wassail cup—
While in our pride we scorned the victor's hand;
Till a foe more dread than they
Brought a terror and dismay,
Which, raging, spread each day
Through the land.

Brave hearts that never quailed
When the bursting missiles flew,
And the leaden tempest hailed—
Cutting our legions through—
Went down before this foe like a breath—
While a panic and a dread
Drove our people from their dread
Till scarce a prayer was said
Over death.

By levee, and by shore—
By road, and rail, and path—
The death scourge wildly bore,
Like a giant in his wrath;
And a cry of anguish rose throughout the land,
When across the bloody plain,
Feeling our grief and pain,
Our victor's stretched again
A brother's hand.

As when the torrent breaks
Its icy chains in spring,
And the very mountain shakes,
As its broken shackles ring,
So broke the icy chains of our pride;
And our wounded spirits told
Better than words of gold
That the sympathies of old
Had not died.

Lost Cattle.

Wilmington Review, 5th.

A cattle-drover who was bringing a herd of the horny headed to this market lost thirty head, about forty miles from this city. He had stopped at a farm house on the route for the night and had penned his cattle up. They broke down the fence and escaped. They were bought in different localities and at different times and the drover has no hopes of recovering them.

Sweet Odors.

Almost every flower that possesses a desirable odor is used in the Unique Perfumes made by Dr. Price. It is from these rich blossoms that Dr. Price's Perfumes obtain their peculiar sweetness and floral character. His Floral Riches, Pet Rose, Lily of the Valley and Evening Violet are the fashionable odors.

The increasing demand daily, in this country and all parts of the world, Europe, Asia, Africa and South America, will compel W. T. Blackwell & Co. to extend their vast establishment to double the extent, both as to buildings and machinery. The Bull is going ahead.

A DECEITFUL JUG.

UNCLE REMUS INDULGES IN A MORAL ESSAY.

A Piece of Earthenware that has Stood the Shocks of Time, etc., for Three-fourths of a Century.

Atlanta Constitution.

Uncle Remus was in a good humor yesterday evening when he dropped casually into the editorial room of the Constitution, as has been his custom for the past year or two. He had a bag, slung across his shoulder, and in the bag was a jug. The presence of this humble but useful vessel in Uncle Remus's bag was made the occasion for several suggestive jokes at his expense by the members of the staff, but the old man's good humor was proof against all insinuations.

"Dat ar jug's bin to war, man. Hit's wunner dese yer ole timers. I got dat jug down dar in Putnam county w'en Mars 'Lisha Perryman wus a young man, an' now he's done growed up, an' got ole an' died, an' his chilluns is growed up an' dey kin count der gran' chilluns, an' yit dar's dat jug des ez lively an' ez lierbul fer ter kick up devilment ez w'at she wuz w'en she come fum de foundry."

"That's the trouble," said one of the young men. "That's the reason we'd like to know what's in it now."

"Now you'er gittin' on ma'shy groun'," replied Uncle Remus. "Dat's de p'int. Dat's what make me say what I duz I bin knowin' dat jug now gwine on sixty-fi' year, an' de jugs w'at's more seetful dan dat jug ain't on de to-side er de worrul. Dar she sets," continued the old man, gazing at it reflectively, "dar she sets des ez natchul ez er ambertype, an' yit whar's de man w'at kin tell w'at kinder conversation she's gwineter carry on w'en dat corn cob is snatched outen 'er mouf? Dat jug is mighty seetful, man."

"Well, it don't deceive any of us up here," remarked the agricultural editor, dryly. "We've seen jugs before."

"I boun' you is, boss; I boun' you is. But you ain't seed no seetful jug like dat. Dar she sets a bellyin' out an' lookin' mighty fat an' full, an' yit she'd set dar a bellyin' out ef dere wuzzen nuthin' but win' under dat stopper. You knows dat she ain't got no aigs in her, ner no bacon, ner no grits, ner no termartusses, ner no shellotes, an' dat's 'bout all you duz know. Dog my cats ef de seetfulness uv dat jug don't git away wid me," continued Uncle Remus, with a chuckle. "I wuz comin' 'cross de bridge des now, an' Brer John Henry seed me wid de bag slung onto my back, an' de jug in it, an' he ups an' sez, sa zee:

"'Hayo, Brer Remus, ain't it gittin' late for watermillions?'

"Hit waz de seetfulness er dat jug. If Brer John Henry knowed de color uv dat watermillion, I spec he'd snatch me up 'fo' de confunce. I 'clar' ter grashus ef dat jug ain't a caution."

"I suppose its full of molasses now," remarked one of the young men sarcastically.

"Hear dat!" exclaimed Uncle Remus triumphantly--"hear dat!" "W'at I tell you? I sed dat jug waz seetful an' I sticks to it. I bin knowin' dat—"

"What has it got in it?" broke in some one; "molasses, kerosene, or train oil?"

"Well, I lay she's loaded, boss. I ain't shuk her up sence I dropped in, but I lay she's loaded."

"Yes," said the agricultural editor, "and it's the meanest bug-juice in town—regular sorghum skimmings."

"Dat's needer here nar dar," responded uncle Remus. "Po' folks better be fixin up fur Krismas, now w'ile rations are cheap. Dat's me. W'en I hear Miss Sally gwine 'bout de house whistlin' 'W'en I can read my titles Cler,'—and w'en I see de martins swawmin' arter sundown—an' w'en I hear de peckerwoods confabbin togedder dese moonshiny nights in my eend er town—den I knows de hot wedder's a breakin' up, and I knows it is 'bout time fer po' folks ter be rastlin' roun' and huntin' up dere rashuns. Dat's me up and down."

"Well, we are satisfied. Better go and hire a hall," remarked the sporting editor, with a yawn. "If you are engaged in a talking match, you have won the money. Blanket him somebody, and take him to the stable."

"An' w'ats more," continued the old man, scorning to notice the insinuation, "do, I hear Miss Sallie whistlin' an' de peckerwoods a chatterin', I aint seein' none er deze yer loafin' niggers fixin' up fer ter 'migrate. Dey kin holler Kansas all 'round de naberhood, but ceptin a man come 'long an' spell it wid greenbacks, he don't ketch none er deze town niggers. You hear me, dey ain't gwine."

"Stand him up on the table," said the sporting editor: "give him room."

"Better go down yer to the calaboose and git some news fer ter print," said uncle Remus, with a touch of irony in his tone. "Some new niggers mighter broke intor jail. Fust news you know, Mars Ivins Howell be hollerin at you froo dis yer telephone machine."

Newspaper Enterprise.

There had been a fearful murder in the country, and the editor sent down an enterprising reporter to form a theory, and, if possible, get ahead of the police in arresting the murderer.

Three days later the reporter returned and reported progress.

"Well, and so the three officers armed themselves and set off with me, and about 11 o'clock we reached the spot where the suspicious-looking person had been in the habit of loitering about. Suddenly, as we turned a corner, we almost ran against a pale and haggard-looking man answering to the description I had received. 'That's the man!' I cried. The wretch started to fly, but was instantly secured, bound and dragged to the station; the Commissaire questioned him and—let him go. He wasn't the man!"

"Well, when you found that you had been instrumental in causing the arrest of an innocent man, what did you do then?"

"Secured him as a subscriber to the paper!"

Raffle--Benefit of General Hood's Children.

Wilmington Star.

A Raffle will take place this evening at 8 o'clock, at Kasprowicz's cigar store, of a bale of cotton, the proceeds to be applied to the benefit of the orphan children of the late General Hood, of New Orleans. The prices of chances in this raffle are one dollar, and it is hoped that at least two hundred will be sold. Some seventy-five chances have already been taken.

'Possums and 'Coons.

Concord Press.

We hear the 'possum hunter's horn almost every night. It is too early, as the game is poor. 'Coons are at work on the bottom corn, and afford good sport for a night hunt. But this early in the season the hunter is liable to take the fever from too much exposure.

DAILY NEWS

GEO. C. JORDAN, Editor and Prop'r.

SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER - 7, 1879.

WHEN Harper, of the Okalona States, meets Buchanan, of the Lemars Sentinel, nitro-glycerine will have "take a back seat" as an explosive.

IF you don't believe it's the same old South and a little more so, go down there and try to live and act like a gentleman.—N. Y. Tribune.

Come down and try, it Mr. Reid, perhaps it will be the first effort you ever made in that role.

DURING the rebellion the North "got away" with the South in a manner wonderful to behold. But time makes all things even—the South will have her revenge. We see it stated that O. Y. Harper, editor of the Okalona States, has started North and West on a lecturing tour. The North needs pity more than Memphis.

ACCORDING to a Washington correspondent of the New York World, Hon. A. H. Stephens said the other day that the committee on rules has unanimously recommended changes in the parliamentary procedure irrespective of partisan movements, which will greatly facilitate legislative business. Mr. Stephens believes the Georgia Democrats to be against Tilden, and he is himself in favor of General Hancock for President.

IN yesterday's issue of the NEWS appeared an advertisement of masons wanted at Durham. Well, they might as well go there as anywhere—we have no need of them here. Still if the business of the city was enlarged it might prove profitable to our merchants to have a goodly number of mechanics engaged here at paying wages, for of necessity these would have to eat, drink and be clothed; empty houses might find paying tenants, and it might also be found necessary to erect others. The profits on tobacco is what is building Durham.

THE large and commodious tobacco warehouse building of Messrs. S. & C. Watkins, on Garnett street, near the brick factory, is rapidly nearing completion.—Henderson Tobacconist.

And if every other village within a radius of sixty miles of Raleigh continues to put up tobacco warehouses we will be so completely fenced in that a farmer will not be able to get here to do his trading. And here is another of a like nature:

We notice in the Torchlight that Mr. H. G. Cooper will commence soon the erection of a large and commodious tobacco warehouse, on the vacant lot between the dwelling of H. C. & W. G. Herndon and the residence of Captain Landis.—Henderson Tobacconist.

THE Now Yord World sees with its eyes and understanding. It says the man whom the Democrats can elect President in 1880 is one who "will beat the life out of every dawning dream, East or West in New England, California or the South, of nullification or secession; who will advocate a fixed standard of values; who will show that neither State lines nor State laws can stand in the way of the command of the Constitution that the laws of the United States made in pursuance thereof * * shall be the supreme law of the land; and who will not tolerate the starving of an executive to secure his assent to the repeal even of obnoxious laws."

THE New York Tribune invests in the story published in a Washington paper, in effect that the Faneuil Hall Democracy is in league with Tilden to keep up an organization and send a Tilden delegation to the national convention next year. In return, Tilden is to see that the delegation is admitted, and, in the event of his election to the Presidency, the Faneuil Hall leaders are to be made custodians of the Federal patronage in Massachusetts, The Tribune adds that the chances of the Democracy succeeding in the national fight are too chimerical to prove seductive to the great mass of Democratic voters, and besides, when it comes to a bold game in politics, Butler can go Tilden one better, and raise in the chips.

IN discussing "Yazoo Politics, Harper's Weekly in its last issue says: "The voters of the State of Mississippi are made voters for members of Congress, not by the laws of Mississippi, but by the National Constitution. The electoral power which the United States thus confers, the United States may rightfully protect. The Democratic position is that the State alone makes voters. That is true only so far as the State is concerned. No State can make a voter for members of Congress." This from Mr. George William Curtis is discouraging. It is not surprising that the average organ should shoot wide of the truth in dealing with the electoral question, but better things are expected of the editor of Harper's Weekly. This is what the United States Supreme Court, in the person of Chief Justice Waite, has said: "The Constitution of the United States has not conferred the right of suffrage upon any one. "The right to vote in the States, comes from the States!" "The United States have no voters of their own creation in the States. The right of suffrage is not a necessary attribute of national citizenship." Clearly Mr. Curtis has need to read and study the decisions of the Supreme Court, whose business it is to interpret the laws and to eliminate therefrom such features, in the opinion of a majority of the Judges, are unconstitutional.

NEW YORK NOMINEES.

The Republicans of New York have finished their ticket and nominated the following gentlemen:

For Governor—Alonzo B. Cornell, of New York.

For Lieutenant-Governor—George G. Hoskins, of Wyoming.

For Comptroller—J. W. Wadsworth, of Livingston.

For Secretary of State—General J. B. Carr, Rensselaer.

For Treasurer—Nathan D. Wendell, of Albany.

For Attorney-General—Hamilton Ward, of Allegany.

For State Engineer—Howard Soule, of Onondaga.

A platform was adopted pledging the party anew to National supremacy, equal rights, free elections and honest money, thanking President Hayes and the Republicans in Congress for their recent attitude, and denouncing the present Democratic policy. The regulation of corporations was advocated.

GENERAL HOOD'S CHILDREN.

When General John B. Hood, one of the bravest soldiers of the Confederate army, died, a family of children were left dependent on the world for support. The eldest born, Lydia, was but ten years of age when she died; the youngest, twins, were but three weeks of age when they lost their mother. An appeal for the foundation of a fund to support these tender ones until they arrive at a self-supporting age, was made by the Atlanta Constitution in the early part of last week, and is meeting with becoming response. Other States than Georgia are taking up the cry, and the movement promises to become general. East, West, and North re-echo the sound from the South, and the fact that the late General had become shattered in body and fortune, and had fought bravely in defense of what he considered the right seems to have had full effect on the minds of those that fought against him. It is proposed that North Carolina contributes her quota toward this object—some of our villages have already made action. And now is a chance for Carolina's capital to help on the good work.

Should our people see fit to indorse the proposition and make contributions, they can leave them with General Basil C. Manly, Mayor of the city, who in the fighting days was an officer in the deceased General's division. Contributions so received will be acknowledged daily through the NEWS.

POLITICAL NOTES.

The anti-Tilden Democrats have about reached the end of another hopeless wriggle.

Hendricks has reached home and settled down to his law business like one without political hope. The wonder is he didn't do it before.

There is more or less anxiety in Massachusetts at present concerning what Butler will be able to do. After the Maine election is heard from there won't be any at all.

When it is evident that there is hope of success with Tilden and none whatever with Field, Ewing or Thurman, Kentucky will be "solid" for Tilden.—Louisville Post.

We believe that this is a pressing and vital danger. We know that the South is solid; we saw at the extra session what is their temper; we know that if we now lose New York, they are sure to capture the Presidency. Are we not speaking, then, the words of truth and soberness, when we say that since 1864 there has not been an election when, in the eyes of the whole Nation, there was laid upon the Republicans of New York so urgently and solemnly the duty of success?—N. Y. Tribune.

No Man has Better Reason.

Philadelphia Times.

It is probably safe to say that the happiest man in the country over the Republican nomination for Governor in New York is Mr. Samuel J. Tilden. At least, it is entirely safe to say that no man in the country has better reason for feeling happy over it.

A Protest Entered.

Brooklyn Eagle.

As the Republican organs fail to attend to their duty, we rise to protest against the unseemly manner in which Secretary Sherman was "fired out" of the Ohio canvass.

Served one Good Purpose.

Brooklyn Eagle.

If it is the Yazoo tragedy that has made the Republican press pause in its frantic efforts to force Jeff Davis into the Senate of the United States, it has served one good purpose.

For President.

Philadelphia Times.

The State ticket nominated by the New York Republicans ought to bear at its head for a device, "For President, Samuel J. Tilden."

Decision Regarding Taxation.

N. Y. Journal of Commerce.

WYTHEVILLE, Va., August 19, 1879.

A friend of ours living in Fayetteville, North Carolina, has State bank stock in this State. Please let us know if the State of North Carolina can collect taxes on said stock. G. & S.

Reply.—The taxable situs of personal property is generally the domicile of the owner. Congress has changed this rule with reference to national bank stock, held by non-residents, making the location of the bank the place of taxation. The New York courts have also declared the shares of foreign corporations owned within the State to be nevertheless not subject to taxation here, saying that the property does not in this case follow, the person of the owner, in accordance with the general rule. The question is perhaps still open in North Carolina, but in the absence of a direct adjudication on the point, we should expect to see the courts of that State sustain its power to tax Virginia bank stock owned by a resident of North Carolina.

The Civil Rights of Indians.

Ex-Governor Horatio Seymour and ex-representative W. J. Bacon, of Utica, N. Y., have signed the annexed appeal for the civil rights of Indians:

"The question of the right of Indians to claim the protection of the law, which has attracted the attention of the public since the habeas corpus for the release of Standing Bear, the Ponca chief, is one which we deem of vast importance. All those who sympathize with the Indians and desire that they should have the same rights before the courts that we accord to all other human beings now have an opportunity to give practical aid to secure that object. The people of the North reproach the people of the South for the wrongs of slavery, yet there never was a time when they were not allowed to have their cases tried before the courts. Surely we should take care that the American people do not lay themselves open to the charge that in this respect they uphold a denial of that justice which was never withheld from the slaves in the South, when they were subject to the utmost rigor of the laws which made them the property of others. We therefore appeal to the benevolent everywhere to send in contributions for the purpose. Eminent counsel have offered their services free of charge, and the money asked for is to pay witness fees and court expenses."

Dealers in Pine Straw.

Wilmington Review, 5th.

The pine straw business in this city seems to be at a standstill now. There are two presses here but neither is now at work. The proprietors claim that there is too little margin between the cost and the receipts and that they cannot make anything out of the business as it is. They threaten to stop work altogether unless they can get more from the manufacturers in New York. They are on a "strike" now and are making an effort for increased prices, and we trust that they may prove successful.

Captain Carey's Case.

The facts about the sentence and release of Captain Carey, the British officer who was with the Prince Imperial when the latter was killed by the Zulus have at last come out. The court-martial sentenced him to be cashiered, but accompained the sentence with a recommendation of mercy. The reasons for this recommendation were so strong as to have justified an acquittal. The proceedings of the court-martial were sent to England according to law, to be submitted to the Queen by the judge-advocate general. This officer advised his sovereign that there was no evidence to warrant the conviction. Thereupon the Queen ordered Captain Carey's release. The leading London journals are outspoken in their gratification at Carey's release.

A Steep Performance.

Greensboro North State.

On Saturday last the body of Bowman, who had been hanged in Randolph on the day previous was brought to this city in a covered wagon, on its way to Rockingham county. The body was taken to the public square, and after the lid of the coffin had been removed was placed against the side of a house and a photograph of the corps taken. We are informed that the picture was taken for the Police News, or some paper of that sort. We call this a pretty steep performance for a civilized and Christian community.

Will Never Create Any Revolution.

Southern Home.

This thing of women preaching throughout the country, appears to give some people much concern; and we had several subscribers to urge us to write against the practice, lest it should demoralize the people and break down the pillars of society and the accepted forms of religion. It gives us no uneasiness whatever, for we believe it temporary excitement that will soon pass away. We went to hear Miss Painter when she preached here and were satisfied that she would never create any revolution that would convulse the country. We are like Josh Billings in this respect. He says that whenever pretty women take to the pulpit he will be their follower and not before.

The Rice Crop.

Wilmington Star, 4th,

The prospects for the rice crop in this section are represented as very fine. A well informed gentleman tells us that on the plantation in Brunswick known as the "Watters Place," the property of Colonel S. L. Fremont, we believe, there are one hundred and eight in rice that it is estimated will yield fifty bushels to the acre—a portion of it will yield more than this, probably sixty bushels to the acre. At Meares' Bluff there are some two hundred acres in rice that also promises a large yield.

VEGETINE

Purifies the Blood, Renovates and Invigorates the Whole System,

ITS MEDICINAL QUALITIES ARE

Alterative, Tonic, Solvent and Diuretic.

Vegetine is made exclusively from the juices of carefully-selected barks, roots and herbs, and so strongly concentrated that it will effectually eradicate from the system every taint of Scrofula, Cancerous Humor, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Syphilitic Diseases Canker, Faintness at the Stomach, and all diseases that arise from impure blood. Sciatica, Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Gout, and Spinal Complaints, can only be effectually cured through the blood.

For Ulcers and Eruptive Disease the Skin, Pustules, Pimples, Blotches, Boils, Tetter, Scaldhead, and Ringworm, VEGETINE has never failed to effect a permanent cure.

For Pains in the Back, Kidney Complaints Dropsy, Female Weakness, Leucorrhœa, arising from internal ulceration, and uterine diseases and General Debility, Vegetine acts directly upon the causes of these complaints. It invigorates and strengthens the whole system, acts upon the secretive organ, allays inflammation, cures ulceration, and regulates the bowels.

For Catarrh, Dyspepsia, Habitual Costiveness, Palpitation of the Heart, Headache, Piles, Nervousness, and General Prostration of the Nervous System, no medicine has ever given such perfect satisfaction as the Vegetine. It purifies the blood, cleanses all of the organs, and possesses a controlling power over the nervous system.

The remarkable cures effected by Vegetine have induced many physicians and apothecaries whom we know to prescribe and use it in their own families.

In fact, Vegetine is the best remedy yet discovered for the above diseases, and is the only reliable BLOOD PURIFIER yet placed before the public.

The Best Evidence.

The following letter from Rev. E. S. Best, Pastor of M. E. Church, Natick, Mass., will be read with interest by many physicians; also those suffering from the same disease as afflicted the son of the Rev. E. S. Best. No person can doubt this testimony, as there is no doubt about the curative powers of Vegetine.

NATICK, MASS., Jan. 1, 1871.

MR. H. R. STEVENS:

Dear Sir, We have good reason for regarding your Vegetine a medicine of the greatest value. We feel assured that it has been the means of saving our son's life. He is now seventeen years of age. For the last two years he has suffered from necrosis of his leg, caused by scrofulous affection, and was so far reduced that nearly all who saw him thought his recovery impossible. A council of able physicians could give us but the faintest hope of his ever rallying; two of the number declaring that he was beyond the reach of human remedies, that even amputation could not save him, as he had not vigor enough to endure the operation. Just then we commenced giving him Vegetine, and from that time to the present he has been continuously improving. He has lately resumed his studies, thrown away his crutches and cane, and walks about cheerfully and strong.

Though there is still some discharge from the opening where the limb was lanced, we have the fullest confidence that in a little time he will be perfectly cured.

He has taken about three dozen bottles of Vegetine, but lately uses but little, as he declares that he is too well to be taking medicine.

Respectfully yours,
E. S. BEST,
MRS. L. C. F. BEST.

DR. C. McLANE'S

CELEBRATED

FOR THE CURE OF

Hepatitis, or Liver Complaint,

DYSPEPSIA AND SICK HEADACHE

Symptoms of a Diseased Liver.

PAIN in the right side, under the edge of the ribs, increases on pressure; sometimes the pain is in the left side; the patient is rarely able to lie on the left side; sometimes the pain is felt under the shoulder blade, and it frequently extends to the top of the shoulder, and is sometimes mistaken for rheumatism in the arm. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness; the bowels in general are costive, sometimes alternative with lax; the head is troubled with pain, accompanied with a dull, heavy sensation in the back part. There is generally a considerable loss of memory, accompanied with a painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. A slight, dry cough is sometimes an attendant. The patient complains of weariness and debility; he is easily startled, his feet are cold or burning, and he complains of a prickly sensation of the skin; his spirits are low; and although he is satisfied that exercise would be beneficial to him, yet he can scarcely summon up fortitude enough to try it. In fact, he distrusts every remedy. Several of the above symptoms attend the disease, but cases have occurred where few of them existed, yet examination of the body, after death, has shown the LIVER to have been extensively deranged.

AGUE AND FEVER

DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, IN CASES OF AGUE AND FEVER, when taken with Quinine, are productive of the most happy results. No better cathartic can be used, preparatory to, or after taking Quinine. We would advise all who are afflicted with this disease to give them a FAIR TRIAL.

For all bilious derangements, and as a simple purgative, they are unequaled.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.

The genuine are never sugar coated.

Every box has a red wax seal on the lid, with the impression DR. McLANE'S [illegible]

The genuine McLANE'S LIVER PILLS bear the signatures of C. McLANE and FLEMING BROS. on the wrappers.

Insist upon having the genuine DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, prepared by Fleming Bros. of Pittsburgh, Pa., the market being full of imitations of the name McLane, spelled differently but same pronunciation.

GOSSIP FOR THE LADIES.

Songs of the Dress.

Ruffle and puff and scallop,
Scallop and ruffle and puff,
Sash and slash and binding and bow,
Button and collar and cuff,
And I dare not rest my weary hand
Till fashion shall say enough!
The May flowers blossom upon my lawn,
With beauty and fragrance fraught,
And on my bookshelves waste
The fairer flowers of thought—
But the skies may glow and the poet sing,
And the world its measures tread,
I, day by day, find the woman's way
Hemmed in with needle and thread.
Summer and Winter, Spring and Fall,
Heedless of tear or smile.
Making our last year's dresses
Over in this year's style.
Basque and jacket and flounce and train,
Serge and cambric and lawn,
Drapings, so mockingly graceful to see,
So horridly hard to put on.
Under our feet unnoted,
Life's beauties and pleasures creep,
O'er our poor bewildered heads
Mazes of frippery sweep,
Plaiting and stitching by leagues and miles,
And ruffling billows deep.
Poor dupes of the restless goddess,
We never can reach her fane,
Yet with needless neglect of costliest gems,
Of body and soul and brain,
We madly follow the faithless Queen,
Who leads us forth to be slain!
Till with garments fluted and flounced and frilled
And souls that are scrimped and bare,
And faces seamed and ruffled and tucked
With Sisyphus-like despair,
We fall on the steps that can ne'er be climbed,
Murdered with—"What to Wear."

Woman's inhumanity to man is what keeps the broom market steady.—Oil City Derrick.

Some men are captivated by a woman's laugh just as some men predict a pleasant day, because the sun shines out clear for a moment. They forget the chances for squalls.

A woman who comes in church a half hour late in order to show off her good clothes should be looked upon mildly. She is simply making room in heaven for two women in calico.—Detroit Free Press,

"Nothing is made in vain!" exclaims the divine, but the next moment as an aggregation of silk, lace and feathers sweeps up the aisle, he realized that something is maiden vain—Yonkers Gazette.

Women sometimes get over childish notions that men never outgrow. Some men celebrate every birthday as long as they live, while women quit doing so almost as soon as they grow up.

Harkins observed his wife driving a brass hook in the wall alongside of one she had put up a short time before to aid her in drawing her corset strings snug. "What are you doing now?" he asked. "Recruiting my waisted energies," she replied, as she delivered the last blow with the hammer.

Nothing is more picturesque than a woman at a picnic in the rain. Her finery dampened by the moisture of heaven, her skirts bedraggled in the wet grass and mad, her spirits in the basement of the thermometer, she reminds one of a chicken that has been making believe it was a duck and got beyond its depth.

Mrs. Goodington has been shopping. "The clerk," she says, "treated me with the outermost condensation, 's long 's they could git anything out o' me; but no sooner had one of 'em found out that two yards of caliker and a hank o' yarn was all I wanted, than he began screaming out, 'Cash' afore he'd half done 'em up."—Boston Transcript.

Cuticura

REMEDIES

Have speedily and permanently cured Humors of the Skin and Scalp of Children and Infants afflicted since birth.

The treatment prescribed in such cases is mild doses of the CUTICURA RESOLVENT, a perfectly safe yet powerful blood purifier, and the external use of CUTICURA, the great skin cure. The CUTICURA SOAP should be the only soap applied to the diseased skin for cleansing purposes.

Humor on a Child

Since Birth Cured, after faithful Medical Treatment had failed.

Messrs. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen, My little son, two years of age, has had a humor on one side of his face since he was born, which during the last four months has spread over the entire side of the face, the child ear, and side of the head. It must have itched and irritated him a great deal, as he scratched the surface all the time, no matter what was applied. I used many remedies by advice of friends and my physician without benefit until I found CUTICURA, which immediately allayed the itching and inflammation, and entirely cured him. Respectfully, JOHN L. SURRY.
With Walworth Manufacturing Co.
BOSTON, April 15, 1878.

NOTE. Once cured, the skin may be rendered soft and fair by using the Cuticura Soap exclusively for toilet or nursery purposes.

CHILDREN AND INFANTS.

More Cures of Skin and Scalp Affections by the Cuticura Remedies.

Fred. Rohrer, Esq., Cashier Stock Growers' National Bank, Pueblo, Colorado, writes: "I am so well pleased with its effects on my baby, that I cannot afford to be without it in my house. It is a wonderful cure, and is bound to become very popular as soon as its virtues are known to the masses."

J. S. Weeks, Esq., Town Treasurer, St. Albans, Vt., says in a letter dated May 28: "It works to a charm on my baby's face and head. Cured the head entirely, and has nearly cleaned the face of sores. I have recommend it to several, and Dr. Plant has ordered it for them."

M. M. Chick, Esq., 41 Franklin St., Boston, says: "My little daughter, eighteen months old, has what the doctors call Eczema. We have tried 'most everything, and at last have used CUTICURA, and she is almost a new child, and we feel very happy."

Prickly Heat.

Incidental to the Texan Climate.

Messrs. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen.—Enclosed please find one dollar for a large box of CUTICURA. The small one that I received some time ago has been very efficacious, especially in Prickly Heat or Rash, as some people call it. I am noising it about.
Yours truly, THOMAS W. BUCKLEY.
MASON, Texas, Sept. 22, 1878.

CUTICURA is a most valuable external application. It heals all cuts, bruises, and abrasions of the skin, restores the hair when destroyed by scalp diseases, removes dandruff and keeps the scalp clean and the hair soft and pliable. It is as agreeable as it is effective, and is ably assisted, in every case by the CUTICURA SOAP, which is particularly recommended to mothers for cleansing the skin and scalp of infants and children. It is Toilet as well as Medicinal, and is the most fragrant and refreshing Soap for the nursery and bath of any these prepared.

Parents have our assurance that these remedies contain nothing injurious to the youngest infant, evidence of which may be found in the certificates of Dr. Hayes and Prof. Merrick accompanying each remedy.

The CUTICURA REMEDIES are prepared by Weeks & Potter, Chemists and Druggists, 360 Washington Street, Boston, Mass., and are for sale by all Druggists. Price of Cuticura, small boxes, 50 cents; large boxes $1. Resolvent, $1 per bottle. Cuticura Soap, 25 cents per cake; by mail, 30 cents; 3 cakes, 25 cents.

TUTT'S PILLS

SYMPTOMS OF A TORPID LIVER.

Loss of Appetite, Bowels costive, Pain in the Head, with a dull sensation in the back part, Pain under the shoulderblade, fullness after eating, with a disinclination to exertion of body or mind, Irritability of temper, Low spirits, with a feeling of having neglected some duty, Weariness, Dizziness, Fluttering at the Heart, Dots before the eyes, Yellow Skin, Headache generally over the right eye, Restlessness with fitful dreams, highly colored Urine. IF THESE WARNINGS ARE UNHEEDED, SERIOUS DISEASES WILL SOON BE DEVELOPED.

TUTT'S PILLS are especially adapted to such cases, one dose effects such a change of feeling as to astonish the sufferer.

CONSTIPATION.

Only with regularity of the bowels can perfect health be enjoyed. If the constipation is of recent date, a single dose of TUTT'S PILLS will suffice, but if it has become habitual, one pill should be taken every night, gradually lessening the frequency of the dose until a regular daily movement is obtained, which will soon follow.

Dr. I. Guy Lewis, Fulton, Ark., says:
"After a practice of 25 years, I pronounce TUTT'S PILLS the best anti-bilious medicine ever made."

Rev. F. R. Osgood, New York, says:
"I have had Dyspepsia, Weak Stomach and Nervousness. I never had any medicine to do me so much good as TUTT'S PILLS. They are as good as represented."

STOMACH

BITTERS

Fever and Ague is most common in the spring, but most severe in the fall and winter. It is strictly a malarious disease, and so surely as the Bitters are adopted, so surely will the individual who adopts this precaution be exempted from its pains and penalties. Add to this its value as a stomachic and anti-bilious agent, and who will venture to gainsay its claims to the first place among family medicines.

Index to New Advertisements.

REDFORD & ARENDELL—Groceries.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

—The city was full of farmers yesterday.

—An unusually active trade is expected this season.

—Read what the Raleigh business men say on first page.

—Peace Institute opened with eighty-three young ladies on hand.

—Go to church; plenty of them. Good preachers and seats all free.

—The sales at the tobacco warehouses yesterday amounted to $000,000.

—Eleven thousand dollars of old bonds exchanged at the State Treasury yesterday.

—The Institution for the Deaf and Dumb and Blind opens its next term Wednesday.

—Mrs. M. M. Adams yesterday qualified as administratrix of her husband, the late Thomas R. Adams.

—The store in the Pullen building is being remodeled. It will be used as a branch establishment by Mr. Morris, the furniture dealer.

—Mr. Moses N. Amis, one of Raleigh's promising young lawyers, leaves this week for Henderson, where he will permanently locate.

—The Fayetteville Gazette says it is rumored in that place that Mr. P. M. Hale is to soon begin the publication of a new newspaper in Raleigh.

—Dr. Skinner will deliver his introductory sermon this morning at eleven o'clock at the Salisbury street Baptist church. Communion service at 5, p. m.

—Rev. N. M. Jurney will occupy the pulpit of the Person street Methodist church to-night; Rev. Mr. Norman, the pastor, will preach the forenoon sern on.

—There will be a regular communication of Wm. G. Hill Lodge, No. 218, Monday evening at 8 o'clock. A full attendance is desired, and members should attend promptly at the above hour.

—The report was current in the city yesterday that the notorious Wyatt McKever McKinsey had been captured in Kentucky. There has been a standing reward of $300 awaiting his capture for sometime.

—Regular services at the Second Presbyterian church to-day at 11 a. M. Dr. Atkinson will preach at the Insane Asylum in the afternoon and there will consequently be no service at this church this evening.

—Rev. John S. Watkins, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, has returned from his summer's vacation at the Springs of Virginia greatly improved in health. He will occupy his pulpit to-dap at 10 a. m. and 8 p, m, —It was rumored upon the streets last evening that Governor Jarvis had appointed Judge Kerr's successor. The NEWS reporter waited upon the Governor and found the report to be incorrect. He has not yet made the appointment.

—An altercation took place yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock, on Fayetteville, street between John F. Hawkins and Robert H. Jones, Jones striking Hawkins over the head with a large stick, inflicting quite a gash over the left eye.

—Some one informed us the other day that they would hand in a snake story in a few days. When it is received we will mail it direct to friend Jordan of the Raleigh NEWS.—Louisburg Times. Got 'em again, have you? And after all the warnings you have received you will persist in "crooking the elbow."

—The walking match which came off yesterday afternoon at Mr. Pomp Bryan's ring, recently made for the use of pedestrians in the rear of his bill boards on Fayetteville street, resulted in Mr. Bryan's winning the match, he having made the mile (thirty-six laps) in eleven minutes and twenty seconds.

—A colored urchin last evening invested the weekly savings of the household in a "watermillion" for Sunday luxury. He balanced it on his shoulder; tucked it under his arm; rested it on his knee—no use, it was too much for him, and down it went at Pescud's corner. He lifted up his voice in lamentation, and said: "Dat's a sick looking million, but tain't half as bad broken up as I'll be when I done got home."

—Neil Jeffreys, an old offender, has had a capias looking for him some time on account of his having failed to pay a little bill of costs. An officer yesterday found him in Durham looking at some of the tobacco factories, with a viewt o having some dozen or more moved to Raleigh; but after a consultation with the said officer, he abandoned the idea, and accepted his pressing invitation to accompany him back to Raleigh. He tarried only a short time in the city, however, having concluded to take an afternoon's drive in the direction of the county workhouse.

All the way from Germany.

Among the old bonds received for exchange at the State Treasury yesterday, was a registered package, containing scrip to the amount of nine thousand dollars, sent by Edouard Brenner, of Alsace, Germany.

Escape of Convicts.

A lot of convicts from the penitentiary have been working near Greensboro. They succeeded in tearing off a plank from the stockade surrounding the place of their confinement, Friday, and five of them made their escape. None of them had been recaptured at latest accounts.

Convict Released.

Lewis Bryant, colored, was released from the penitentiary yesterday. He was convicted of larceny in Sampson county and sentenced to the penitentiary December, 1876. He is about fifty-five years old, five feet eight inches high, and weighed when admitted one hundred and sixty-three pounds.

Messrs. Arendell & Redford.

The advertisement of this brace of young business men appears in this morning's issue. It is one of the livest and most active firms in the city and starting out as they do with energy and pluck it may be expected that they will make a fine success of their family grocery establishment on Hargett street. They are both young gentlemen of experience, popular manners, and have been thoroughly identified with our people for the past five or six years.

Change of Base.

Mr. S. M. Richardson who has been merchandizing in this place, has closed his store, and has already accepted a position as salesman in the large dry goods house of that well-known and thoroughly reliable gentleman, Mr. Joseph P. Gulley. Mr. R. left on Tuesday to visit his relatives in Johnston, but will return in a few days, when he will bid us a final farewell, and depart for Raleigh. His many friends in Louisburg will join us in regretting his departure.—Louisburg Times.

Death of Judge Kerr.

Hon. John Kerr, Judge of the Superior Court of the fifth district of North Carolina, died at his late home in Reidsville on Friday morning at 3 o'clock, after a lingering illness, aged about 70 years. The deceased had recently returned from the Greenbrier White Sulphur Springs, where he had been in search of health. Before the war Judge Kerr represented the Reidsville district in the United States House of Representatives. He was one of the most eloquent and fluent orators in the State. The deceased was a native of Virginia.

The Templeton Troupe.

As will be seen by reference to the new advertisement column, this well known and popular troupe is to soon appear upon the boards of Raleigh. There is no theatrical company that visits this city that is more appreciated or deserve and secure better patronage. The names of John Templeton, Miss Alice Vane, and "May the Fay," are familiar to all theater-going Raleighites. They are excellent performers, and the troupe is this season composed of thirty-five first class artists. They present "Prince Napoleon, or the Fatal Field in Zululand" next Friday night. Secure your seats at Heartt's drug store early and give them the crowded house they deserve.

Posting for the Fair.

The new bills for the State Fair, October 13th to 18th inst., are very bright and attractive, being a departure from the style of a few years past. So also are the gay "hangers" as they are called. These will go to all the stores in the country and public places for many counties around.

Capt. W. C. Parker leaves this week to represent the Society in the West, and R. H. Bradley, Esq., in the East. They will canvass all the railroads in the State, and carry full information directly to the people. All railroad station agents in North Carolina will be supplied with premium lists and programmes. All who facilitate the labors of these gentlemen, will serve the public good. They are fully accredited by the Society and will no doubt do their duty faithfully.

A large number of donations have been received by the Secretary which he will shortly acknowledge.

St. John's Catholic Church, Briggs' Hall, at 11 o'clock this (Sunday) morning, Holy Mass will be celebrated by the Rev. Mark Gross, followed by a sermon. At 5 o'clock, p. m., there will be vespers and benediction of the blessed sacrament at the same place, followed by hearing confessions.

Death of D. W. Kerr, of Alamance.

The public will be pained to learn of the unexpected death of this most excellent and worthy citizen, which took place on Friday evening, at his residence in Alamance county. The circumstances of his death, as we learn from one of the connections of the family, are that on Monday last he mashed one of his fingers slightly in some of the machinery of his farm; he applied some home remedies, having no apprehensions of danger or trouble from it, but it soon became very painful with alarming symptoms, and on Thursday Dr. E. Burk Haywood was telegraphed for, and went up and amputated the finger. Mr. Kerr grew worse and, as stated above, died on Friday evening of lock-jaw.

In the death of Mr. Kerr North Carolina has lost one of her best and most substantial citizens. He was a christian gentleman of the highest type, a most successful farmer and one who was a model. A more extended notice will no doubt be given by some of his neighbors who knew him more intimately.

It is asserted that the ordinary cosmetics used by ladies are productive of great mischief. We believe this is so, and that a better means of securing a beautiful complexion is to use some blood medicine like Rosadalis, the great Southern Remedy, which cleanses the blood and gives permanent beauty to the skin.

Why Will You

Allow a cold to advance in your system and thus encourage more serious maladies, such as Pneumonia, Hemorrhages and Lung troubles when an immediate relief can be so readily attained. Boschee's German Syrup has gained the largest sale in the world for the cure of Cough, Colds and the severest Lung Diseases. It is Dr. Boschee's famous German prescription, ane is prepared with the greatest care, and no fear need be entertained in administering it to the youngest child, as per directions. The sale of this medicine is unprecedented. Since first introduced there has been a constant increasing demand rnd without a single report of a failure to do its work in any case. Ask your Druggist as to the truth of these remarks. Large size 75 cents. Try it and be convinced.

BOVINE, MISSISSIPPI, April 22, 1879.—The following correspondence will explain itself: A. WADDILL, ESQ., LYNCHBURG, VA.—Dear Sir: Observing a certificate from you in reference to the "Iron and Alum Mass," of the Seven Springs, in Washington county, Va., in relation to its efficacy for Liver Diseases, would you have the kindness to inform me whether you used the "Mass" or the "Water;" also, a description of the symptoms and such other information as you may deem pertinent. I am a long-time sufferer with Liver Complaint, and naturally feel very anxious on the subject of a remedy that will afford me even temporary relief. Your early reply will greatly oblige, very respectfully,

WILLIAM BARR.

LYNCHBURG, Va., May 12, 1879.—WM. BARR, Esq., Bovine, Mississippi—Dear Sir: Your inquiry in regard to the "Liver case" which was effectually cured in my family from using the "Seven Springs Mass," is before me. The case referred to in my certificate was that of my wife's sister, who is now in her 80th year, and has been a member of my family for the last 27 years. She had been afflicted with Liver Disease for 30 years, sometimes almost dying with pains in the back, breast, and heaviness of the chest, heart-burns (intensely), sick stomach, vomiting, &c. I procured a few bottles of the "Mass" for her, and very soon after she began the use of it, her health commenced to get better, and she continued steadily to improve, and at this writing, so old, seemingly in as good health as a person who had never been afflicted with these diseases. She attributes her cure entirely to the efficacy of the "Seven Springs Mass." I regard it one of the greatest family medicines we have access to, not only for such diseases as above indicated, but for various other complaints for which it is recommended. Hoping these answers satisfactory, I am, very truly, A. WADDILL, Proprietor Lynchburg News.

For sale by Wm. Simpson, Pescud, Lee & Co., and F. H. Heartt, Raleigh, N. C., and Druggists generally.

Cold, with high winds and rain. Exposure to this weather is sure to produce colds and kindred diseases; and the best remedy we know of is Hall's Balsam for the Lungs. Always keep it in the house, and you will be on the safe side.

A Card to the Public.

We ask a careful reading and a thoughtful consideration of what follows. It is now over twelve years since a new cure for chronic diseases was discovered, known as "Compound Oxygen." The results which have followed its use up to this time have been so remarkable that it is beginning to attract the widest attention. Many intelligent physicians in various parts of the country have, after a careful investigation of its scientific and pathological claims, used it in cases where all other known remedies had failed, and with a success alike surprising to themselves and their patients. In Consumption, Catarrh, Asthma, Bronchitis, Headache, Dyspepsia, and the wide range of Neuralgic disorders from which so many suffer life-long tortures, it has rarely failed to give relief, and in many cases to make permanent cures. It is not a drug, but a new combination of the two elements which make up our common air, giving oxygen in excess. It is taken by inhalation, and cures by natural and orderly processes—first, by eliminating the excess of carbon which has accumulated in the system; and secondly, by a revitalization of all the great nervous centers. In order to give the public an opportunity to learn all about this new treatment, we have a prepared a carefully written Treatise, in which is presented a history of the discovery of "Compound Oxygen," a statement of its Scientific Basis and Mode of Action, and large details of the results which have followed the administration. This is sent free by mail to any one who may desire to receive it. Address Drs. Starkey & Palen, 1112 Girard Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

A Card.

All who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, etc., I will send a receipt that will cure you, free of charge. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the Rev. JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D, Bible House, New York City.

Leopold Redivivus.

Leopold has opened Lumden's old stand for a retail cigar palace, where you will obtain the imperial smoker of the season. tf

The Remedy.

To escape the worthless abominations offered under the title of Baking Powders, rests wholly with the consumers; they are the ones that have to suffer. Dr. Price's Cream Baking powder is decided by chemists to be the most perfect and wholesome powder made.

How to get Sick.

Expose yourself day and night, eat too much without exercise; work too hard without rest; doctor all the time; take all the vile nostrums advertised; and then you will want to know
